CHARTERS.

40th GEORGE III.

22nd March, 1800.

GEORGE THE THIRD, by the Grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. To all to whom these Presents shall come, Whereas our Royal Predecessor, King Edward IV., by certain Letters Patent, under the Great Seal of England, bearing date the 24th Day of February, in the first Year of his Reign, did at the Supplication of the Freemen of the Mystery of Barbers of the City of London, using the Mystery or Faculty of Surgery, grant to them, among other Things, that the said Mystery, and all the Men of the same Mystery of the said City, should be one Body and Perpetual Community, and that two Principals of the same Commonalty, of the most expert Men in the Mystery of Surgery, might, with the assent of twelve or eight Persons at the least, of the same Community, every Year elect and make out of the Community, two Masters, or Governors, being the most expert in the Mystery of Surgery, to oversee, rule, and govern, the Mystery and Commonalty aforesaid.

Recital of the Letters Patent of 1st Edward 4th; incorporating the Freemen of the Mystery of Barbers of the City of London.

And whereas by an Act of Parliament, made and passed in the 32d Year of the late King Henry VIII. intitled for Barbers and Surgeons, after reciting, that, within the City of London, there were then two several and distinct Companies of Surgeons, occupying and exercising the Faculty of Surgery, one Company called the Barbers of London, and the other Company called the Surgeons of London. It was thereby enacted, That the said two several and distinct Companies of Surgeons should from thenceforth be united, and made one intire and whole Body Corporate, and one Commonalty Perpetual, which at all times thereafter should be called by the Name of the Masters or Governors of the Mystery and Commonalty of the Barbers and Surgeons of London; and by the same Name to implead and be impleaded before all manner of Justices, in all Courts, and in all manner of Suits.

Of the Act 32d Henry 8th.

By which the two Companies of Barbers of London, and Surgeons of London were united.

Of the Letters Patent of 5th Charles 1st.

And whereas, in and by certain Letters Patent, under the Great Seal of England, bearing Date the 15th Day of August, in the 5th Year of the Reign of His late Majesty, King Charles I., reciting that the Men of the same Companies enjoyed divers Liberties and Franchises within the City of London, the Suburbs and Liberties thereof, by virtue of divers Acts of Parliament, and divers Charters, and Letters Patent, His said Majesty did grant and confirm unto the said Masters and Governors of the Mystery and Commonalty aforesaid, and their Successors, all and singular the Manors, Messuages, Lands, Tenements, Customs, Liberties, Franchises, Immunities, Jurisdictions, and Hereditaments, whatsoever, which the Men of the said Companies then held, used, and enjoyed, by any lawful Means or Title whatsoever: And his said late Majesty did thereby give power to the said Corporation, to make annual Elections of Masters or Governors of the said Commonalty, whereof two to be Professors in the Art and Science of Surgery; and also to elect and constitute ten of the Freemen of the said Society to be Examiners of Surgeons in London.

Which confirmed to such united Company all the possessions, franchises and liberties which the said Company then held and enjoyed, with power to make annual Elections of Masters or Governors whereof two to be Professors in Surgery: and to elect ten Freemen to be Examiners.

Recital of the Act of 18th of George 2d.

And whereas, by an Act of Parliament, made and passed in the 18th Year of the Reign of our late Royal Grandfather, King George II., intitled "An Act for making the Surgeons of London, and the Barbers of London, two separate and distinct Corporations," It was enacted, that the said Union and Incorporation of the Barbers and Surgeons of London, made and effected by the aforesaid Act of the 32d Year of King Henry VIII. should, from and after the 24th Day of June, 1745, be dissolved and declared void and of no effect; and that such of the Members of the said united Company who were Freemen of the said Company, and admitted and approved Surgeons, within the Rules of the said Company, and their Successors, should from thenceforth be made, and they were thereby made and constituted, a separate and distinct Body Corporate and Commonalty Perpetual, which at all times thereafter were to be called by the Name of Master, Governors and Commonalty of the Art and Science of Surgeons of London, and by the same Name might implead and be impleaded before all manner of Justices, in all Courts, and in all manner of Actions and Suits, and take to them and their Successors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, or Hereditaments, not exceeding the yearly Value of £200 in the whole.

by which the Union of the two Companies was dissolved; and which constituted a distinct Company of Surgeons, by the Name of "The Master, Governors, and Commonalty of the Art and Science of Surgeons of London."

Recital that such Corporation was dissolved.

And whereas, we are informed that the said Corporation of Master, Governors, and Commonalty of the Art and Science of Surgeons of London, hath become and now is dissolved: And whereas, it is of great consequence to the Commonweal of this Kingdom, that the Art and Science of Surgery should be duly promoted: And whereas, it appears to us, that the Establishment of a College of Surgeons will be expedient for the due promotion and encouragement of the Study and Practice of the said Art and Science, Now We, of our special Grace and mere Motion, and at the humble Petition of James Earle, Esquire, the late Master, and divers other Members of the aforesaid late Corporation of Surgeons; have willed, ordained, constituted, declared, given and granted, and by these Presents, for Us, Our Heirs, and Successors, do will, ordain, constitute, and declare, give and grant; unto the aforesaid James Earle, and unto all the Members of the said late Company or Corporation of Master, Governors, and Commonalty of the Art and Science of Surgeons of London; having been admitted and approved Surgeons, within the Rules of the said Company; and also unto all such Persons, who upon, or since, the dissolution of the said Corporation, shall have obtained Letters Testimonial, under a Seal purporting to be the Seal of the said late dissolved Corporation, authorizing them to practise the Art and Science of Surgery; and they, from henceforth for ever hereafter, shall be and remain by virtue of these Presents, one Body Corporate and Politic; by the Name of The Royal College of Surgeons in London, and by the same Name shall and may have perpetual Succession, and a Common Seal; with power to break, alter, and make anew the said Seal, from time to time at their will and pleasure; and by the same Name shall and may implead, and be impleaded, before all manner of Justices, in all Courts, and in all manner of Actions and Suits; and shall be at all times for ever hereafter persons able and capable in Law to take, purchase, possess, hold, and enjoy, and shall and may take, purchase, possess, hold and enjoy, a Hall or Council-house, with its Appurtenances, situate within the Cities of London or Westminster, or within one Mile of either of them, for the use and purposes of the said College; and also any other Lands, Tenements, Rents, or Hereditaments, wheresoever situate, lying and being; not exceeding, together with the aforesaid Hall or Council-house, and its appurtenances, the yearly value of one thousand Pounds in the whole; without incurring any of the Penalties in any Statute of Mortmain, or any Thing, in any Statute of Mortmain, to the contrary notwithstanding.

That it is of great consequence that the Science of Surgery should be duly promoted, and that a College will be expedient for the due encouragement thereof.

Therefore His Majesty was pleased to incorporate the Members of the late Company, and all such Persons who since the Dissolution thereof have obtained Letters Testimonial &c.

By the name of "The Royal College of Surgeons in London."

With perpetual succession and a common seal;

and power to hold and enjoy a Council-house within London or Westminster or one mile of either of them; and to possess lands and tenements, including such Council-House of the yearly value of £1000 in mortmain.

And it is Our further Will and Pleasure, that nothing in these Presents

Proviso,—That the City of London shall not have any jurisdiction over the College. Nor the Members of the College enjoy any franchise belonging to the Freemen of the City of London.

shall be construed to give the Corporation of the City of London any Power or Jurisdiction over the said College hereby established and incorporated; and that no Person, by virtue of these our Letters Patent, constituted or ordained, or hereafter to be admitted a Member of the said College, shall be thereby entitled to any Franchise belonging to the Freemen of the City of London.

The College to enjoy all other privileges and possessions by any former Acts or Letters Patent, given to, or otherwise acquired by, the late Company, not hereby altered, &c.

And it is Our further Will and Pleasure, and we do hereby, so far as We lawfully can or may, grant and ordain, that the said Royal College of Surgeons hereby incorporated, shall and may exercise and enjoy all and singular other the Gifts, Grants, Liberties, Privileges and Immunities, Possessions, real and personal, whatsoever and wheresoever, hereinbefore mentioned, or by any Act or Acts of Parliament, or by any Letters Patent, of Our Royal Predecessors, Kings and Queens of England given, granted, and confirmed unto, or otherwise lawfully acquired by, and belonging to the said late Master, Governors, and Commonalty of the Art and Science of Surgeons; or any of them, and not hereby altered, taken away, changed, or abridged, made void, or annulled.

The College liable to perform such Duties as the late Company did perform by the Act of 25th George 2d, "For the better preventing the horrid Crime of Murder."

THE COUNCIL.

The Council, the governing body of the College, consists of twenty-four Members, three* of whom, when no vacancy, either by resignation or death, has occurred during the year, go out in rotation annually in July, but are eligible for re-election by the Fellows of the College. All proceedings of the Court of Examiners, the Midwifery and Dental Boards, and the several Committees are reported to the Council for approval and confirmation. The Meetings of the Council are generally held in each month of the year, except in the month of September, and at such other times as the business of the College may require. During the past Collegiate Year there have been thirteen Meetings.

* If in any year one of the three retiring Members be President of the College, he does not go out of office until the succeeding year.

THE COURT OF EXAMINERS.

The Court of Examiners consists of ten Members elected by the Council from the Fellows of the College. The Court superintends the carrying out generally the regulations of the Council relating to the preliminary and professional education of Students, and conducts the professional examinations of Candidates for the Diplomas of Fellow and Member of the College. During the past Collegiate Year the Court has held five Meetings for the Examinations for the Fellowship, and forty-five Meetings for the Primary and Pass Examinations for the Membership. The following is a statement of the number of Candidates who presented themselves for the Fellowship and Membership respectively, with the results of the several Examinations, viz. :—

BOARD OF EXAMINERS IN DENTAL SURGERY.

The Board consists of six Members elected by the Council for five years, viz.:—three Members of the Court of Examiners of the College, and three other persons skilled in Dental Surgery. The Board conducts the Examination of Candidates for the Diploma in Dental Surgery of the College. During the year four Candidates have been examined, of whom three passed to the satisfaction of the Board, and one was referred to his professional studies for a period of six months.

THE MUSEUM.

The Hunterian Collection, which forms the basis, and still a large proportion, of the contents of the present Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, was originally arranged in a building which its Founder, John Hunter, erected for it in 1784, behind his house in Leicester Square.

John Hunter died October 16th, 1793, aged 64. By his will he directed his Museum to be offered in the first instance to the British Government, on such terms as might be considered reasonable, and in case of refusal, to be sold in one lot, either to some foreign state, or as his executors might think proper.

In the year 1799 Parliament voted the sum of £15,000 for the Museum, and an offer of it being made to the Corporation of Surgeons, it was accepted on the terms proposed by Government*.

In 1806 the sum of £15,000 was voted by Parliament in aid of the erection of an edifice for the display and arrangement of the Hunterian Collection; a second grant of £12,500 was subsequently voted, and upwards of £21,000 having been supplied from the funds of the College, the building was completed in Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, in which the Museum was opened for the inspection of visitors in the year 1813.

* The following are the Terms and Conditions on which the Hunterian Collection, purchased by Parliament, was delivered to the late Corporation of Surgeons; which Corporation having become dissolved, the Members thereof were re-incorporated by Charter, dated the 22nd day of March, 1800, under the Title of The Royal College of Surgeons in London:—

1st. The Collection shall be open Four Hours in the Forenoon of two days every week for Inspection and Consultation of the Fellows of the College of Physicians, the Members of the Company of Surgeons and Persons properly introduced by them; a Catalogue of the Preparations, and a proper Person to explain it, being at those times always in the Room.

2nd. That one Course of Lectures, not less than twenty-four in number, on Comparative Anatomy and other subjects, illustrated by the Preparations, shall be given every year by some Member of the Company.

3rd. That the Preparations shall be kept in a state of Preservation, and the Collection in as perfect a state as possible, at the Expense of the Corporation of Surgeons, subject to the annual Inspection and Superintendence of the Trustees.

4th. That there shall be a Board of Trustees, to consist of sixteen (increased to seventeen by the Lords of the Treasury in 1856) Members, by virtue of their Public Offices, and of fourteen others, to be appointed, in the first instance, by the Lords of the Treasury, and afterwards to be elected, as Vacancies may happen, by a Majority of the remaining Trustees.

5th. That the Museum shall always be open for the Inspection of all or any of the said Trustees, who are to take care that the Corporation of Surgeons perform their Engagements respecting the said Collection. That a day be appointed for the annual Inspection of the Museum, by the Trustees acting collectively as a Board; and that they are also to have quarterly Meetings, for the transacting of any Business relative to the Museum, and for the filling up of such Vacancies as may happen in the number of the Trustees; and that the Corporation of Surgeons shall engage some Person to officiate as Secretary to the Board upon such occasions, and to issue previous Notice to the Members, in which he is to state particularly whether any Vacancies are to be filled up by new Elections.

In consequence of the large number of additions, this building became too small for the adequate display and arrangement of its contents; and more space being at the same time required for the rapidly increasing Library, the greater portion of the present building was erected, wholly at the expense of the College, in 1835, at a cost of about £40,000, and the Hunterian and Collegiate Collections were re-arranged in what are now termed the Western and Middle Museums, which were opened for the inspection of visitors in 1836.

Further enlargement of the building having become necessary by the continued increase of the Collection, the College, in 1847, purchased the extensive premises of Mr. Alderman Copeland, in Portugal Street, for the sum of £16,000, and in 1852 proceeded to the erection of the Eastern Museum, at the expense of £25,000, Parliament granting £15,000 in aid thereof. The re-arrangement of the specimens was completed, and the additional portion of the building opened to visitors in 1855.

The Hunterian Collection was estimated to consist of 13,682 specimens, distributed under the following heads:—

Physiological Department, or Normal Structures.

Physiological preparations in spirit	3745
Osteological preparations	965
Dry do.	617
Zoological do.	1968
Fossils:—
Vertebrate	1215
Invertebrate	2202
Plants	292

Pathological Department, or Abnormal Structures.

Preparations in spirit	1084
Dry preparations (including bones)	625
Calculi and concretions	536
Monsters and malformations	218
Microscopic preparations	215

Of the additions by which the size and value of the Collection have been so materially increased since it came into the possession of the College, very many have been presented by Fellows and Members of the College, and other persons interested in scientific pursuits. Among the largest contributions from this source have been the Collection, consisting of 847 specimens, presented in 1811 by Sir William Blizard, and a valuable series of Pathological specimens presented in 1851 by Sir Stephen L. Hammick. At the same time the Council of the College have availed themselves of various opportunities as they have occurred to purchase specimens of interest, especially at the dispersion of private anatomical and pathological museums, as that of Sir A. Lever in 1806, of Mr. Joshua Brookes in 1828, of Mr. Heaviside in 1829, Mr. Langstaff in 1835, Mr. South in the same year, Mr. Howship and Mr. Taunton in 1841, Mr. Liston in 1842, Mr. Walker in 1843, and, deserving of especial mention on account of the great number and value of the specimens acquired, that of Sir Astley Cooper in 1843.

The Histological Collection, of which the 215 Hunterian specimens (prepared by Hewson) constitute the nucleus, was chiefly formed by the late Professor Quekett, with considerable additions by purchase from Dr. Tweedy J. Todd, Mr. Nasmyth, and Professor Lenhossek. It now contains upwards of 12,000 specimens, all arranged and catalogued so as to be readily available for reference.

The superintendence of the Museum is confided by the Council of the College to a Committee of its Members, which Committee has held ten meetings during the past year.

A summary of the progress made in the preservation, arrangement, and augmentation of the Collection will be found in the following Report:—

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CONSERVATOR TO THE MUSEUM COMMITTEE.

(Presented June 28th, 1869.)

I. Pathological Collection.

During the past twelve months this Collection has received a considerable share of attention. In all departments of a public museum in which the specimens are much used, they are liable to be misplaced, and sometimes even lost; the suspending threads are not unfrequently broken down by careless handling, the spirit may evaporate or become turbid or discoloured. Errors or omissions also occasionally occur in entering new specimens in the Catalogue, especially in consequence of the difficulty of procuring the history of the case at the time of first entry. These defects can only be remedied by holding from time to time a minute inspection of the condition of all the specimens and of the Catalogue. Such an inspection has lately been made by Mr. Moseley under my direction. The specimens which needed to have the spirit changed were reported as 230; of these, 140 have already been completed, and the remainder will be proceeded with during the present summer. Various minor alterations and improvements, as removing the label to a better situation on the bottle or specimen, repairing injured specimens, and correcting and adding to the Catalogue, especially histories of the cases, whenever they could be procured, have been made.

This part of the Collection has been also augmented by sixty-seven new specimens, the names of the donors of which appear in the list appended to the Report.

It may be interesting to place on record an abstract (compiled from the Catalogue) of the present composition of the Pathological series of the Museum, showing the principal sources from which the specimens have been derived, and the dates at which they were obtained.

II. Osteological Collection.

The work that has been so long in progress of incorporating the unarranged collection of bones in the store-room with the Museum catalogued series, may be looked upon now as practically completed. All the boxes, upwards of 500 in number, containing skeletons, some Hunterian, and others added by the College, mostly incomplete and rarely unmixed, have been examined, cleaned, compared, and sorted. Many of these belonged to skeletons of which selected portions were already in the catalogued collection, while the remaining bones had been left in the store-rooms; these have been again united. Some few complete skeletons have been articulated; very many of the bones of the incomplete skeletons have been mounted in the "Series of Homologous Bones." Of the remainder, the smaller ones have been arranged in glass-topped boxes in the drawers in the Eastern Museum, in their respective places in the Osteological series; the larger ones in boxes in the small room adjoining the Eastern Museum, and in the Articulator's room, where they will be more accessible and less exposed to dust than in the present "Box room." Some have been given away in exchange to other institutions. Some that were quite valueless have been destroyed. The reason for the qualification to the word "completed," used above, is, that some few bones have been still left as duplicates, not worth entering in the Catalogue, or not yet disposed of, and some await such precise identification as can only be given by a special study of the group to which they belong, and which would occupy more time than seems justifiable to bestow upon them at present. This especially refers to the bones of Reptiles and Fish.

Among the specimens which have been catalogued and arranged during the present year are sixty-six skeletons of birds from the collection made by Mr. Gould in Australia, and purchased from that gentleman in the year 1840; also a considerable collection of skulls and bones of mammals and birds made by Mr. Bryan H. Hodgson in Nepal and Thibet, and presented to the College on December 2nd, 1845. Unfortunately in the time that has elapsed since these collections came into the possession of the College, many of the labels by which the specimens were all originally distinguished have become illegible or lost, and great difficulty has been experienced in identifying them. Not a few were rendered quite useless from this cause.

The improved method of articulating, spoken of in previous Reports, has been carried to great perfection in a skeleton of a very fine French Bloodhound, prepared from an animal presented by Mr. S. A. Lane. This skeleton not only shows the general form and proportions of the animal, but is arranged to take to pieces, so that the articular surfaces of almost every bone can be separately studied. I may observe that this method of mounting skeletons, as well as many processes for preserving and displaying soft structures, which have been originated in this establishment, have been already adopted in many museums, both in our country and abroad; and this fact, together with the frequent applications for information on all these subjects, is the most satisfactory proof that the College of Surgeons Museum not only maintains its own reputation, but is also doing good by diffusing generally the knowledge acquired in its somewhat large experience, and thus improving the general standard of museum work.

III. Physiological Collection.

I have lately submitted to the Committee a Report on the present condition of the "Physiological series of Comparative Anatomy," especially of the Catalogue, which urgently needs revision and completion, and I hope in my next Annual Report to be able to state that progress has been made in bringing this most important department of the Museum into better order than it is at present. In the meanwhile many additions have been made, and the series of preparations intended to illustrate the anatomy of the human body, formerly a great desideratum in the Museum, has been proceeded with. Among the new specimens shown to the Committee this day are some carefully executed dissections of the muscles of the face, neck, and extremities, the work of W. Pearson, attendant in this department of the Museum.

IV. Teratological Collection.

The Collection of Malformations and Monstrosities much needs revision, and especially the formation of a new Catalogue. I think that it would be desirable to invite the assistance of some one who would make a special study of this department, and who would use the large materials which have been for some time accumulating in our Museum as the basis of a really scientific work on the subject.

V. Zoology of Invertebrate Animals.

I must refer back to the Report for 1867 (see Calendar for that year, p. 284) for the reasons which rendered a rearrangement and condensation of the various collections illustrating the zoology of the invertebrate animals advisable. As the proposals then suggested have now been completely carried out, I take this opportunity of describing the present condition and mode of arrangement of this part of the Collection, premising that, with very few exceptions, the specimens of which it is composed have been selected from those which were already in possession of the College, either in the Museum or stores, and that, as mentioned in the last Report, very much of the actual work of arrangement, and especially of mounting the spirit specimens, was performed by Mr. W. S. Kent during his temporary engagement by the College, from February to July 1868.

The Collection is arranged in the first five of the Floor Cabinets on the eastern side of the Western Museum, extending as far as the entrance into the Middle Museum. It is intended to introduce the student to a general knowledge of the principal forms of animal life, and to the mode in which they are grouped. The series includes, as far as practicable, selected specimens of nearly all the orders, and in many cases of the families, both of the living and the extinct forms. The illustrative specimens made use of are:—1. The hard and more imperishable parts, as the "Corals" or stony skeletons of the Actinozoa, the shells of Mollusca, and the tegumentary structures of the Articulata, the only parts generally preserved in the extinct species; these are placed in the horizontal tops of the cases. 2. Such portions of the animals as cannot be preserved in a dry state are arranged in bottles on a shelf above the cases.

The division of the groups of the spirit-preparations is made to correspond as nearly as may be with that of the dry ones below; but it must be observed that they do not always exactly coincide, as some groups require to be illustrated more fully in one way, and some in the other. Certain groups, in fact, can only be shown by spirit-preparations, others, including all those wholly extinct, only by dry specimens. Attention to the labels denoting the classes and orders will obviate any difficulty that may occur on this score.

As this series is mainly zoological, the specimens are not, as a rule, dissected, but are displayed so as to show their general external characters to the greatest advantage. Dissected specimens of many of the same forms will be found in the Physiological series in the galleries in the Eastern Museum.

The series does not extend beyond the Invertebrata, as the peculiarities of the remaining classes of the Animal Kingdom are abundantly illustrated in other parts of the Museum.

As the classification of the Animal Kingdom is but a mode of expressing the zoologist's knowledge of the mutual affinities of the various forms of animal life, it must necessarily be subject to constant change as that knowledge increases; and moreover, as different zoologists will naturally estimate differently the value of structural characters as affording evidence of affinity, it is clear that it is hopeless to expect a definite system of classification which will meet with any approach to unanimous approval. The one that has been here adopted, founded mainly on that used by Prof. Huxley in his Hunterian Lectures at the College and at the School of Mines, appears to represent fairly the present state of zoological science. The student must not be discouraged if he finds the groups somewhat differently arranged, or called by other names, in the text-book which he may employ. The value of this collection to him will be that it teaches him to know the objects themselves. If he has once rendered himself familiar with the appearance of all the specimens in this series, he will have comparatively little difficulty in applying any system of classification which he may prefer.

The various groups are distinctly separated from each other and clearly named. The individual specimens have also, in nearly every case, the name (at least of the genus to which it belongs) attached to it, so as to save the necessity of reference to a catalogue. But as numbers are also appended to the majority of the specimens, it may be as well to explain their meaning.

1. The red numbers at the top of the bottles refer to a MS. Catalogue in the possession of the Conservator, in which are entered such particulars as are known of the origin and history of the specimen.

2. The numbers attached to the specimens in the tops of the cases without any initial letter preceding them refer to the "Descriptive Catalogue of Fossil Organic Remains of Invertebrata," 1856.

3. The numbers preceded by an initial capital letter, A, B, &c., refer to the "Catalogue of Plants and Invertebrate Animals in a Dried State," 1860.

The specimens are arranged in two series, one on each side of the case, commencing in both at the end nearest the entrance to the Museum with low forms, and gradually ascending to the higher groups. On the side nearest the wall of the Museum are the Protozoa, including the Foraminifera and Sponges, though many of the allied forms, being microscopic and difficult or incapable of being preserved, cannot be represented in the series. The Scolecida follow, then the large and important group of the Echinodermata, and the Crustacea, Arachnida, Myriapoda, and finally the Insecta. On the side of the cases facing the centre of the room are the Cœlenterata, followed by the Mulluscoida and Mollusca, the last case being occupied by the Class Cephalopoda.

Students who desire to pursue the study of any of the sections more deeply than the small selected series of exhibited specimens will allow, will find the remainder of the specimens mentioned in the Catalogues above referred to arranged in the drawers, to which access may be obtained on application to the Conservator. The Hunterian series of fossil Cephalopoda is very rich.

VI. Assistant in the Museum.

The vacancy in the staff of the Museum, caused by the resignation of Dr. Pettigrew, has been filled by the appointment of Mr. Litchfield Jones Moseley, Member of the College, who had been previously employed for nearly two years in making preparations for the Anatomical Examinations. Since his appointment a great part of Mr. Moseley's time has still been occupied by the Court of Examiners in superintending the prosectors, arranging the tables for the Meetings of the Court, and in adding to the permanent series of anatomical preparations used on these occasions.

VII. Honorary Medal.

The Museum Committee in January last brought before the attention of the Council the number and value of the specimens presented to the Museum at various times during the past six years by Mr. William Lodewyk Crowther, M.R.C.S., of Hobart Town, including the complete skeleton of a Sperm-Whale (especially mentioned in the last Annual Report), six other complete skeletons, and numerous skulls and bones of cetaceous animals from the Tasmanian seas, as well as several skeletons of smaller animals. As all of these were collected expressly for the Museum of the College, at considerable trouble and expense to Mr. Crowther, and most of them were altogether new to science, or not to be met with in any other European museum, and have therefore contributed materially to advance the knowledge of the anatomy of the animals to which they belong, the Council, on February 11th, resolved that the Honorary Medal of the College be awarded to Mr. Crowther, in recognition of these services to the Museum and to Science.

The last occasion on which the Medal was awarded was in 1834, when Dr. George Bennett, of Sydney, also a liberal donor to the Museum, was the recipient.

VIII. Miscellaneous.

A large mahogany case, which for many years has been standing in one of the store-rooms in the basement, has been altered and added to, so as to make two cases, which are intended to occupy the vacant places in the Western Museum, on each side of the statue of Hunter. One of these has already been placed in the Museum, and the interesting and instructive series of casts of the interior of the brain of various races of men and of animals, for the adequate display of which there was previously no space, have been arranged in it. The second case will very shortly be ready, and will allow of an extension and better exhibition of the series of normal human osteology.

THE LIBRARY.

The formation of a regular Library may be said to have commenced in the year 1801, at which time and in succeeding years presentations and bequests of books, often in considerable numbers, were made to the College; the principal donors being Dr. Baillie, Sir Everard Home, Sir Charles Blicke, the widow of Mr. Sharp, Sir Ludford Harvey, Dr. Fleming, Mr. Cotton, and Mr. Long. The Court of Assistants also directed from time to time the expenditure of small sums of money for the purchase of books, and eventually voted a sum of £100 per annum for this purpose. Sir Charles Blicke, in the year 1816, invested the sum of £300, the proceeds of which sum were to be devoted to the same object. Some of the purchases thus made were considerable, as in the cases of the Libraries of Mr. Pitt, Mr. St. Andre, and Sir Anthony Carlisle, and books of importance were added at the recommendation of the Conservator of the Museum and others. In this way a Library of considerable value was gradually accumulated, but it was only accessible to a limited number of persons. In 1827 active steps were taken to render it more generally useful, and with this object catalogues and extensive lists of desirable acquisitions were ordered to be prepared. Large sums of money were also expended during this and the ensuing two years, amounting in the aggregate to nearly £6000. A Librarian was appointed, and in 1828 the Library, then containing 10,500 volumes, was thrown open to members of the College, and all other persons engaged in the pursuit of natural science were freely admitted. This large collection, thus opened, offered great facilities to the studious. By means of extensive additions, the collection was well-nigh complete in works on Medicine and Surgery, both domestic and foreign, whilst it was also very rich in publications relating to the accessory sciences. The transactions of Academies and Societies, and the collection of periodical publications in general, owing to their completeness, and the difficulty with which access can be obtained to this class of literature elsewhere than in large libraries, formed a valuable feature. The maintenance of the Library from that time to the present has involved a very considerable expenditure of the funds of the College. It has been the object of those to whose care it has been confided to ensure the completeness and excellence of the collection, and great facilities of reference have been provided by the preparation of additional catalogues and indexes of subjects. During the last year there have been added to the Library 458 volumes, comprising 115 new works, and 417 tracts, pamphlets, reports, and theses. The entire collection now contains 32,566 volumes, consisting of 13,465 works and 35,656 tracts, pamphlets, reports, and theses.
